e. Chaplains

(1) Chaplains are qualified Religious Ministry Professionals (RMPs) endorsed by a DoD-listed RO and commissioned as Naval officers in the CHC.

(2) Per reference (d), as a condition of appointment, every RMP must be willing to function in the diverse and pluralistic environment of the military, with tolerance for diverse religious traditions and respect for the rights of individuals to determine their own religious convictions. Chaplains must be willing to support the free exercise of religion by all Service members, their families, and other authorized persons. Chaplains are trained and expected to cooperate with other chaplains and RMPs and work within the specialized environment of the military while not compromising the tenets of their own religious traditions.

(3) To meet the requirements of religious accommodation, morale and welfare, and to facilitate the understanding of the complexities of religion with regard to its personnel and mission, the DON has designated four core CHC capabilities: care, facilitate, provide, and advise. Chaplains care for all Service members, including those who claim no religious faith, facilitate the religious requirements of personnel of all faiths, provide faith-specific ministries, and advise the command.

(a) Care. Chaplains are uniquely qualified to deliver specific institutional care, counseling, and coaching, which attend to personal and relational needs outside of a faith group-specific context. This includes relational counseling by chaplains which is motivated by their proximity and immediate presence, distinguished by confidentiality (per reference (e)), and imbued with professional wisdom and genuine respect for human beings. Such counseling is most effective when based on strong relationships developed in the context of shared life in the same unit. Some examples of care include deck plate ministry, counseling, coaching on military life, pre- and post deployment training for Service members and their families, crisis prevention and response, the CREDO program, memorial observances, and combat casualty ministry. Chaplains also strengthen community life by delivering training and education to Service members and other authorized personnel.

(b) Facilitate. Chaplains manage and execute CRPs that accommodate diverse religious ministry requirements. Accommodation of individual and collective religious ministry requirements includes, but is not limited to: scheduling, budgeting, contracting and coordinating to include the management of volunteers and lay leaders.

(c) Provide. Based upon their professional credentials, ecclesiastically endorsed and commissioned chaplains meet faith group-specific needs, including worship services, sacraments, rites, ordinances religious and/or pastoral counsel, scripture study, and religious education.

(d) Advise. Chaplains strengthen the chain of command and assist in the development of leadership by providing advice to leaders at all levels. Chaplains serve as principal advisors to commanders for all matters regarding the CRP within the command, to include matters of morale, morals, ethics, spiritual well-being, and emerging religious requirements. Under reference (f), chaplains serve as an advisor to commanders on the impact of religion on military operations, within the boundaries of their non-combatant status.

(4) Chaplains are non-combatants. It is DON policy that chaplains are not authorized to obtain weapons qualifications, warfare qualifications, or bear arms; however, they are authorized to wear warfare or weapons qualification insignia obtained during prior service as a combatant. Chaplains are eligible to qualify for and to wear the insignia of qualification designations such as Fleet Marine Force, Basic Parachutist, and Navy/Marine Parachutist.

f. Religious Program Specialists. RPs are integral to the delivery of religious ministry in the DON. They, along with their chaplains, comprise the RMT responsible for the daily delivery of religious ministry. As part of an RMT, RPs work in direct support of DON chaplains. RMTs support, manage and execute the CRP. RP functional areas include: ministry support and accommodation, pastoral care support, command advisement, expeditionary ministry support, finance and accounting, and shipboard library administration. The functional areas are aligned to meet the command's religious ministry requirements to accommodate religion, support morale and welfare, and understand the complexities of religion with regard to personnel and mission.

(1) RPs are trained to accommodate religious ministry requirements by facilitating the free exercise of religion and supporting the provision of religious ministry. RPs support the delivery of care through pastoral triage, referrals, professional military counseling, charting, and explaining the types of ministry available. RPs play an integral role in advising leadership on the impact of the CRP. RPs in expeditionary environments are combatants who provide force protection expertise for RMTs.

(2) Every RP must be willing to function in the diverse and pluralistic environment of the military, with tolerance for diverse religious traditions and respect for the rights of individuals to determine their own religious convictions. RPs must be willing to support the religious rights of all authorized persons.

6. Responsibilities of Commanders

a. Commanders shall provide a CRP which accommodates the religious needs, preferences, and rights of the members of their commands, eligible family members and other authorized personnel. The CRP is supported with appropriated funding at a level consistent with other personnel programs within DON, sufficient to execute the commander's mission and intent.

b. Commanders shall ensure the chaplain's direct access to the commander as provided in Article 1151 of reference (b).

c. Attendance at divine services shall be voluntary. Personnel present in an official support capacity are not considered attendees.

d. Consistent with DON policy on religious accommodation and the protections mandated by reference (a), commanders shall determine whether religious elements as defined in enclosure (1) shall be included in command functions.

e. Commanders shall not compel chaplains to act in a way that is inconsistent with the tenets of their faith. When invited to deliver religious elements at command functions, if the chaplain chooses not to participate, he or she may do so without adverse consequences.

f. When in a combat area, commanders shall only assign, detail, or permit chaplains, as non-combatants under the Geneva Convention, to perform such duties as are related to religious ministry under Article 1063 of reference (b) and as defined in enclosure (1).

g. Commanders shall not assign chaplains collateral duties that violate the religious practices of the chaplain's RO or that require services in a capacity in which the chaplain may later be called upon to reveal privileged, confidential, or sensitive information. Reference (e) defines the responsibilities with regard to chaplain confidentiality.

h. Commanders shall not assign chaplains duties to act as director, solicitor, or treasurer of funds, other than administrator of a ROF; act as an investigating officer; or stand watches other than that of duty chaplain.

7. Action

a. The CNO shall exercise oversight to ensure compliance with this instruction and shall implement the policies in this instruction throughout the Navy. The CNO shall initiate action with the CCG and the administrator of the Maritime administration to implement this policy when Navy chaplains provide religious ministry to those agencies.

b. The CMC shall issue orders to implement this instruction throughout the Marine Corps.

8. Records Management Records created by this instruction, regardless of media, shall be managed in accordance with SECNAV Manual 5210.1.
